VARIO M1 counterheight table

The M1 standing table is completely built from the M1 system.

Especially for informal meetings, short discussions or also as a balance to the sedentary work as a standing workstation, when making phone calls, for a break with colleagues: here the M1 standing table is a good solution.

Frame elements, stacking box elements and table top allow individual configurations in standing height. The filigree frame construction stands for transparency and openness, the M1 stacking box elements provide the necessary storage space. Whether drawers, shelves - with or without doors or folding door elements: all elements available for this purpose can be found on the M1 system page. And the assembly or conversion is very simple, as everything can be set up without tools and without any complications.

The M1 frame element is available in the width of 800 mm and in three heights: 400, 200 and 100 mm, the floor element is 100 mm high and equipped with adjustable glides. The color is either black or white. The same surfaces are available for the 19 mm thick shelves and cover plates as for the M1 stacking box system; in addition, they can be edged in black or white, depending on which frame element color is selected.
